Sura College Accredited by the Distance Education Accrediting Commission (DEAC)

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., Sept. 2, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- Sura College today announced that it has been accredited by the Distance Education Accrediting Commission (DEAC), which is listed by the U.S. Department of Education as a recognized accrediting agency and is recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA).

The accreditation affirms Sura College's commitment to providing high-quality, flexible, and affordable distance education that prepares nurses to advance their careers as expert educators and healthcare leaders.

"Sura College is dedicated to delivering an academic experience that is innovative, rigorous, and student-centered," said Dr. Habeeb Rahman, Founder and President of Sura College. "Earning DEAC accreditation reflects our unwavering dedication to student success and academic excellence. At Sura College, we prepare nurse educators who are not only skilled practitioners but also compassionate leaders ready to elevate healthcare worldwide." said Dr. Alex Hoffmann, Executive Campus Director of Sura College.

Founded in 2020, Sura College is licensed by the Arizona State Board for Private Postsecondary Education (AZPPSE) and offers a Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) degree with a Nurse Educator option. The program is designed to meet the growing national demand for nurse educators by offering an online format that allows students to complete coursework from anywhere in the world.

Faculty at Sura College hold advanced healthcare degrees and bring decades of professional practice to their teaching. The institution's academic philosophy is guided by adult learning theory, constructivism, and competency-based learning, ensuring that students graduate with the skills, ethics, and knowledge required to meet the needs of today's diverse healthcare environment.
